

Perine G E

Drawer 19

Engraving

71 2102 222 00000

Engravings of Abraham Lincoln

G.E. Perine

Excerpts from newspapers and other sources

From the files of the Lincoln Financial Foundation Collection

Pay Tribute to Lincoln

Chicago Herald Examiner 2-12-35

'NEW' PICTURE?—Is this a "lost" portrait of the great emancipator? Found recently in the collection of old engravings inherited by Frank J. McCoy of Santa Maria, Cal., the original has been placed on display at Santa Barbara in commemoration of Lincoln's birthday. It was engraved by George E. Perine of New York in the '60s.—International News photo.

Lincoln Picture Shown On Birthday

—(Associated Press Photo.

"LOST" LINCOLN PORTRAIT DISPLAYED ON COAST.

The 126th anniversary Tuesday of the birth of Abraham Lincoln was marked by exhibition at Santa Barbara, Calif., of an engraving of the Emancipator by George T. Perine, New York, in the 60's, and found recently in a collection inherited by Frank J. McCoy, Santa Maria, Calif. It shows Lincoln as younger than most contemporary artists painted him.

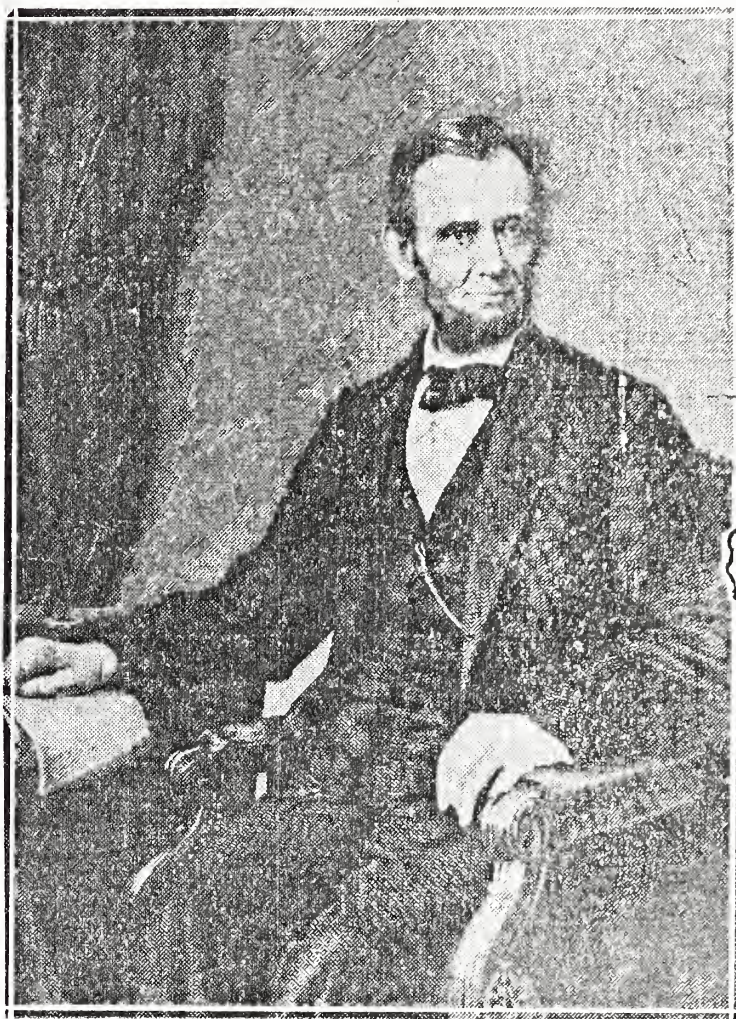

THE LOUISVILLE TIMES FEBRUARY 12, 1935.

LINCOLN PORTRAIT FOUND

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., February 12 (Spl.)—This portrait of Abraham Lincoln, depicting the civil war President as a younger man than most pictures show him, went on display here today. Engraved by George E. Perine, of New York, in the sixties, the portrait was found in a collection of engravings inherited by Frank J. McCoy, of Santa Maria, Cal.

Indianapolis, news
2-12-35

UNCOVER OLD LINCOLN PORTRAIT

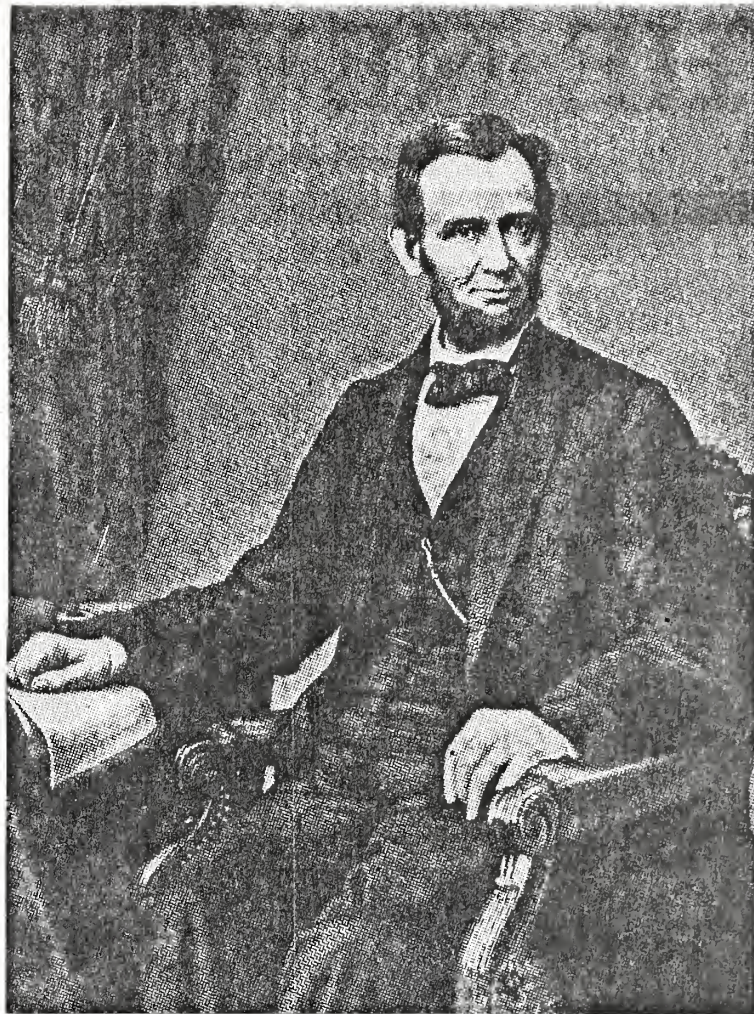

This engraving of Abraham Lincoln was made by George E. Perine, of New York, in the 1860's. It was recently found in a collection of old engravings inherited by Frank J. McCoy, of Santa Maria, Calif.

Philadelphia Inquirer
2-12-35

s Lincoln Tribute

Lost for many years, this portrait of Abraham Lincoln, the 126th anniversary of whose birth is being observed today, was found in a collection of old engravings inherited by Frank J. McCoy of Santa Maria, Cal. It was engraved by George E. Perine of New York in the 1860's. (From International News photos.)

Times Wide World Photo.

A RARE PORTRAIT OF THE EMANCIPATOR.

Copy of engraving by George E. Perine, which was found recently in the collection of old engravings inherited by Frank J. McCoy of Santa Maria, Calif.

Here's 'Lost' Lincoln Portrait

A portrait of Abraham Lincoln found recently in a collection of engravings inherited by Frank J. McCoy of Santa Maria, Cal. The portrait, engraved by George E. Perine of New York in the 60's, is on display in Santa Barbara for Lincoln's Birthday today. It depicts Lincoln as younger than most contemporary artists limned him. (AP Wirephoto)

Feb 15, 1935

THE REGISTER, SANDUSKY, C

Lost Lincoln Picture Displayed

This portrait of Abraham Lincoln, depicting the Civil War President as a younger man than most pictures show him, went on display for Lincoln's birthday in Santa Barbara, Cal. Engraved by George E. Perine of New York in the sixties, the portrait was found recently in a collection of engravings inherited by Frank J. McCoy of Santa Maria, Cal. (AP)

*Phil. Inquirer
2/9/36*

→
NATION HONORS
THE GREAT
EMANCIPATOR

The above portrait of Abraham Lincoln,
whose anniversary is
marked next Wednesday, was reproduced
from an engraving
made by George E.
Perine in the '60's.

Lincolnite's Album Depicts Civil War Period

BY RALPH C. FOX

Staff Writer

At the close of the Civil war a young Wisconsin cavalryman went to Davenport, Ia., to begin his career as a doctor.

At the same time he compiled in a small album the many photographs which he had collected during the war years.

This young man was Dr. Albert Bishop, the late father of Granville A. Bishop of 315 No. 29th, the present owner of the album.

THE PHOTOGRAPHS, all remarkably sharp and well preserved, are those of the prominent figures of the Civil war period. The first in the book is of Abraham Lincoln. The print bears the seal of a photographer, W. M. Elrod, Excelsior gallery, No. 321 Market street bet. 3rd and 4th, Louisville, Ky.

Feb. 12 is an especially good day to look back thru the album, Granville Bishop feels. For it is the 141st anniversary of the birth of President Lincoln. The pictures capture some of the stormy history surrounding the nation's ill-fated Civil war leader.

Others in the collection are of generals Grant, Sherman, Logan, Sheridan, McClelland and McPherson, as well as numerous tintypes of Dr. Bishop and his family and friends as they appeared at the close of the war.

One picture which has stood the test of time especially well is of Sherman on horseback

GENERAL SURVEYS TERRAIN—A well-preserved photograph in the Bishop album shows Union Army General Sherman checking the wartime countryside.

INSPECTS ALBUM—G. A. Bishop inspects an album of photographs from the Civil war period, which were compiled by his father. (Staff Photo.)

WAR TO MEDICINE—This picture of Dr. Bishop was taken about the time he began his medical career.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN—This sharply detailed photograph of the Civil war president opens the Bishop album.

Lincoln reb. Townsend & Co. 2 12 30

Care, Michigan
Mar. 17th 1966

Lincoln Life Foundation,
Fort Wayne, Ind.

I have been advised
by Mr. Beckham, director of the Clements
Library, Ann Arbor Mich. to write to the Foundation regarding an engraving I have of Lincoln.

This is one of Geo. Perrines engraving and I do know this is not a copy, however
I have written all over for information
but so far, no results, was sure Kennedy Galleries would have it listed but they haven't.

I mentioned above this is not a copy - I mean it is not a late copy - No doubt many of the engraving were made -

I have people interested in purchasing it, but I want to know what I am selling before accepting any offer -

The picture is in good condition

because the margin is stained.

I have a large photograph that I could mail if this would help identifying, I will enclose this small one.

I will be more than glad to pay for information or appraisal.

Thank you.

Mrs Rhynard

FEB • 66

Entered in the Hall of Congress
1864. (Man of the album)

President of the U. S.

Rhynard

March 23, 1966

Mrs. Irene Rhynard
1009 Court Street
Clare, Michigan 48617

Dear Mrs. Rhynard:

I have your letter of March 17th regarding the Lincoln engraving by Perriene which you have in your possession. I have studied your letter and it is difficult for me to know exactly what size or condition is to be taken into consideration for an appraisal of its value.

By looking at the photograph which you have enclosed, I am familiar with the picture and we have undoubtedly several copies in our vast collection of pictorial Lincolniana.

While this engraving is exceptionally fine, I do not believe that it would command a very high price. There is no standard value on Lincoln engravings and no ready market for the disposition of same.

I regret that I can be of so little help to you.

Yours sincerely,

R. Gerald McMurtry

RGM/hcs

